2. THOMAS SABO STAR AND MOON EARRINGS

£195, THOMASSABO.COM
Mismatched earrings have been seen on every catwalk and red carpet this year. However, if a total contrast makes you

3. CARTIER CLASH DE CARTIER RING

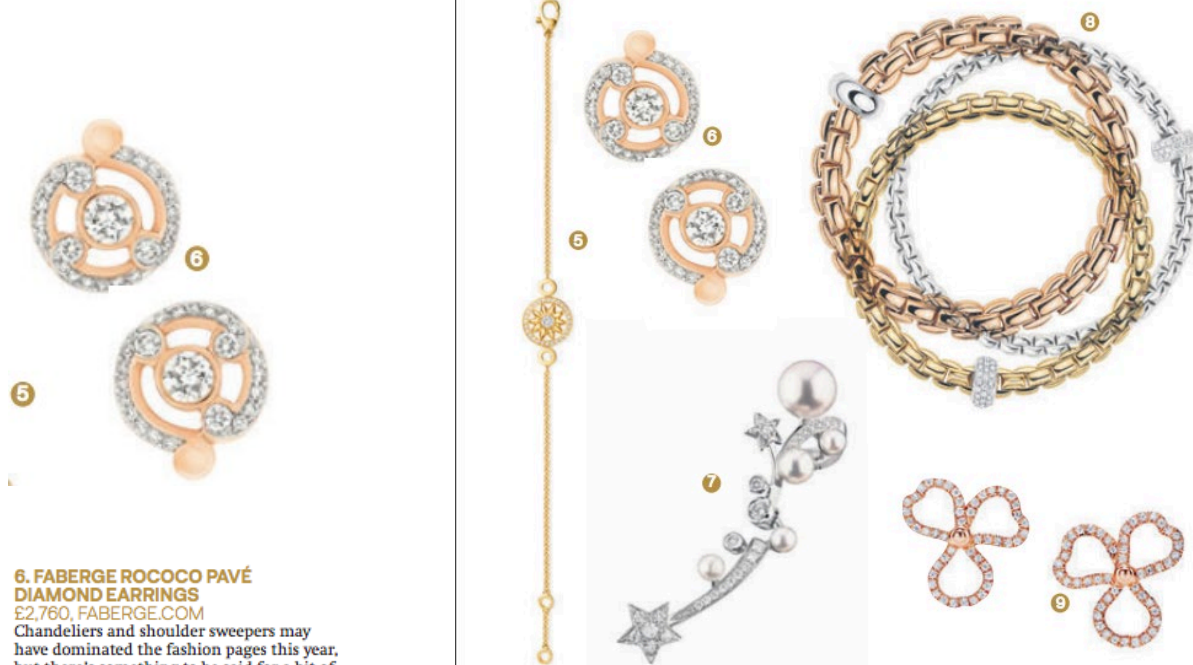

£3,200, CARTIER.CO.UK
With its raw punk sensibility this gorgeous ring from Cartier would make the perfect gift for someone who doesn't like their jewellery too feminine. 8. FOPE EKA ANNIVERSARIO BRACELET

FROM £3,000, FOPE.COM

There really is nothing like a Fope Eka bracelet. It is the epitome of everyday luxury (Fope doesn't deal in anything other than precious metals) and is made using the brand's unique Flex'it system. This signature mesh is made stretchable thanks to tiny gold springs hidden between each

W Hamond & Fabergé's Yorkshire surprise

Following its famed imperial Russian heritage, popularity in the collections of celebrities and billionaires – and of course iconic James Bond connections – you can now add Yorkshire to the enduring legacy of Fabergé.

What happens when Whitty's oldest and most successful jeweller, joins forces with one of the world's most prestigious jewellery manufacturers? Should you wish to find out, then Hamond's exclusive Whitty Jet jewellery collection produced in collaboration with Fabergé provides some truly stunning answers.

The limited-edition Fabergé Whitty Jet collection has been produced to mark the start of W Hamond's 160th anniversary celebrations which will be a theme running throughout 2020 at the Church Street jeweller. In addition to helping mark such a special year for the business, the new jewellery collection provides a treasured heirloom for which the whole of Yorkshire can enjoy.

The Whitty collection is only the second time Fabergé has used a British gemstone in any of its jewellery, building on the success of a range utilising Blue John, which is as synonymous with Derbyshire as jet is with Whitty.

As for the jewellery collection itself, a choice is provided between two distinctive Whitty Jet pendants, either as paired Whitty Jet domes separated by a diamond centre, or as a trademark Fabergé surprise locket.

For the surprise inside, what could be more iconic than using a miniature Whitty Abbey which is detailed to a platform of Whitty Jet. Both designs have been worked on by skilled W Hamond and Fabergé craftsmen and offered in 18ct rose, white or yellow gold for the diamond pendant and 18ct yellow or 18ct white gold for the surprise locket.

Any Fabergé collection wouldn't be complete without a classic 'objet piece and the Yorkshire jeweller doesn't disappoint. The showpiece for W Hamond comes in the form of a wonderful free-standing egg mounted on a Whitty Jet base. There is no question this highly desirable piece must be seen first-hand for anyone to be truly awed by its delicacy and design. The 18ct yellow gold vermeil piece features green guilloché enamel, round white diamonds and opens to reveal an 18ct gold Whitty Abbey which, as with the lockets, sits on a pedestal of Whitty Jet. Even before the egg is opened to reveal its Whitty exquisite perfection and sits on a platform of Whitty Jet. Both designs have been worked on by skilled W Hamond and Fabergé craftsmen and offered in 18ct rose, white or yellow gold for the diamond pendant and 18ct yellow or 18ct white gold for the surprise locket.

All the Whitty Jet used in the collection has been locally sourced and passed through W Hamond's own workshop to finish their part of the process before moving on to the next stage at Fabergé.

TOP RIGHT: The surprise lockets from W Hamond's Fabergé Whitty Jet collection

Having overseen the development and been at the forefront in bringing this new collection to life, W Hamond Jewellery Designer Rebecca Sellers commented "For our workshop the collaboration offered many unique opportunities and insights, with one of the highlights being a rare glimpse into the expert Fabergé enamelling craftsmanship inside their London atelier workshop."

In also recognising the significance this collection has for British gemstones and jewellery design – and the local area – Rebecca went on to explain "It is a really big endorsement and a demonstration of the high regard in which Whitty Jet is held that a world-renowned name such as Fabergé want to work with us – and we are all very excited about the finished designs. What's more, this collaboration will allow W Hamond to once again set the benchmark for authentic Whitty Jet craftsmanship with a range of highly desirable, collectible and wearable jewellery pieces."

Holly Willoughby's metallic Dancing on Ice gown may be her dreamiest one yet

Every week when Holly Willoughby steps out to present Dancing on Ice, we think we've found a new favourite dress. That is, until the following week! Outdoing herself once again, the blonde beauty wore a stunning metallic pink gown by LA designer Iris Serban, the mastermind behind the ruffled off-the-shoulder pink gown she wore at the Dancing on Ice press day in December 2019. On Sunday night, her dress featured a corset top, ruffled neckline and daring thigh-high split. Working alongside her trusted stylist, Angie Smith, she paired the pretty gown with gold strappy heels from Sophia Webster and accessorised with Fabergé earrings.

Sticking to her classic beauty look of nude lips, long eyelashes and glowing skin (not to mention her perfectly preened blonde locks), the mother-of-three showed no signs of her busy work schedule. Speaking of her gratitude for her glam squad, she told HELLO! in 2018: "I've got a really wonderful team who I've worked with for a long time now. I listen to literally everything they say so whether it's Ciler Peksah saying 'cut your hair', I go 'okay'. For makeup, Patsy O'Neill keeps everything pared back, less is more, and I love that because y'know, you wanna look like you, you don't just wanna go and look like someone else. In fashion, my stylist Angie Smith has helped me step out of my comfort zone a million times and given me the confidence to be a bit braver with stuff."

ANGUS DAVIES

FABERGÉ

Fabergé Flirt

The Fabergé Flirt counters the winter blues with vibrant shades and playful styling. However, beyond the pulchritudinous appearance of each model, this collection of watches incorporates high-end movements and quality construction. Angus Davies embraces his feminine side and examines the brand's eye-catching models at close quarters.

The Christmas festivities and New Year revelry have passed and January's sad demeanour is omnipresent. Despite tear-filled skies quenching my garden's thirst, there is not a bloom in sight. For the next few weeks, my view of the barren landscape is observed through a monochrome lens.

Those readers who share my craving for a few ebullient shades may well succumb to the cheerful appearance of a Fabergé Flirt. This model tantalises onlookers with its coquettish appearance, craving attention with its curvaceous lines, prepossessing features and bewitching complexion.

The dial

Perusing the Fabergé website, I counted nine different versions of the Flirt.

Image – Green enamel, hand guilloché dial – Ref. 1502/8

FABERGÉ

A LIFE IN COLOUR

Some dial options incorporate gems, enamel, hand guilloché and even a sparkling sea of diamonds. These versions are 39mm in diameter and feature gold cases. They exhibit refinement and timeless styling.

However, the Flirt has an alter ego. Gems and elaborately decorated dials are eschewed in favour of ebulliently-hued dials and cases. These models are slightly smaller, measuring just 36mm, and are encased in white or rose gold. Decidedly jolly and slightly playful, these models attracted my gaze and are the focal point of this article.

Image – Full set dial – Ref. 1508/5

Image – white dial – Ref. 1494/10

FABERGÉ

The smaller, 36mm model is available in five colourways. The white and black dial options are comparatively conservative when contrasted with their extrovert siblings. Indeed, the blue, orange and yellow variants crave attention and are unlikely to pass unnoticed.

The dial is presented on two levels. The shade of the upper level is lighter than its counterpart below. Each hour is depicted with either elongated Roman numerals or supremely slender batons. The luxury marque has used a laser-etching technique to create the openworked indexes, allowing the lower membrane to peep through the various openings in the upper dial surface. This approach grants delightful tonal contrast, augmenting the overall allure of the dial.

Although the bright palette and matching rubber strap imbue the smaller Fabergé Flirt with a dose of modernity, these watches also incorporate some classical elements. For example, the hour and minute hands subscribe to Breguet's legendary style. However, upholding the Maison's reputation for surprises, the circular eyelets, typical of Breguet hands, have morphed into an egg shape, a subtle reference to the company's legendary Imperial Easter eggs.

The case

While many ladies are drawn to larger watches and even men's models, there remains a strong following for traditionally feminine case sizes. The Flirt's 36mm case sidesteps the bulk of the aforementioned men's models while at the same time it surpasses the diminutive proportions of some ladies' timepieces. With its 36mm housing, the dial canvas is large enough to lucidly and stylishly impart time, while avoiding unnecessary bulk.

The upper sapphire crystal is domed, while the case back is fitted with a flat pane of sapphire crystal, affording views of the self-winding movement.

Fabergé has not limited the playful use of colour merely to the dial of the watch. A lacquered circlet, matching the shade of the dial, graces the case band. This soupçon of brightly-hued ebullience provides a clever connection between the dial and case.

The crown sits unobtrusively against the case and features a neat rope-like grip, conferring ease of adjustment. A moonstone graces the vertical flank of the crown and is inspired by the brand's cigarette cases of yesteryear.

The movement

Despite its flamboyant attire, this watch features a brilliant mind. Its automatic movement, the 'Self-winding 3000', is crafted by the high-end specialist firm, Vaucher Manufacture. This esteemed Manufacture is an exemplar of haute horlogerie, crafting movements for an array of prestigious brands. It is known for high quality finishing and impressive reliability.

The Self-winding 3000 contains 193 parts, including 28 jewels. Twin barrels deliver 50 hours of autonomous operation. The balance has a frequency of 28,800 vph (4Hz), while the rate is adjusted with a raquette.

The oscillating weight is formed of 22-carat gold and is adorned with Fabergé's distinctive fan-type motif. The bridges are embellished with Côtes de Genève rayonnantes and the plate is decorated with perlage.

Closing remarks

On one hand, the dial of the Fabergé says little, owing to its limited inventory of indications and yet the watch also says much, revealing the vivacious character of its wearer. Indeed, the Flirt brims with style and befits effervescent ladies with a thirst for life.

The dial imparts information cleanly and the modest scale of the case proffers universal appeal. At the heart of the Flirt is a winning combination of brains and beauty. The Self-winding 3000 deserves examination. It is delightfully appointed and promises years of faithful service.

Fabergé has shown that style and virtue can still be accessible. The Flirt 36mm is £12,840 (RRP as at 6.1.2020), a not an inconsequential sum, but considering its gold case and Vaucher movement, it does represent value for money. I do think the brand could stimulate demand further with the addition of cheaper steel models for those ladies who appreciate the Flirt's glamorous appearance but who don't wish to part with a five-figure sum.

Image – Black dial – Ref. 1680/5

The brightly coloured versions of the Flirt 36mm may be more susceptible to changing fashions than their safer, sober siblings. The black and white dial options should age more gracefully. Likewise, the Flirt 39mm also promises lasting eye-appeal. However, despite having made these comments, I would still favour a blue or yellow Flirt as an accompaniment to a voguish haute couture ensemble.

Hands-on H. Moser & Cie. Streamliner Flyback Chronograph, an Unprecedented Sporty Chrono with Agenhor Movement

A new model with an integrated bracelet, central chronograph indication and its own personality.

The luxury sports watch is hotter than ever: just try and get your hands on an Audemars Piguet Royal Oak or a Patek Philippe Nautilus at a retailer and you'll see what we mean. Numerous brands have responded to this unabating trend for luxury sports watches and 2020 kicks off with a novel steel watch with all the DNA of the genre, including an integrated bracelet and a shaped case. But once you've seen the watch, you'll agree that this is definitely not a copy of the standard luxury sports watch fare we are accustomed to. This time, it's by an indie watchmaker, which starts the year with a bang, launching a watch with a distinct personality. Meet the H. Moser & Cie. Streamliner Flyback Chronograph Automatic.

NOT JUST A PRETTY FACE

The Moser Streamliner Flyback Chronograph isn't just a design. It is also a highly technical watch that is powered by a sensational movement. Technically impressive and aesthetically superb the movement was developed with Agenhor. The calibre HMC 902 is the third iteration of the mind-blowing Agengraph, the central chronograph imagined by Jean-Marc Wiederrecht. Following the Fabergé and Singer Reimagined versions, the Moser iteration is the first-ever central chronograph with flyback function.

By James Buttery 09/01/2020

Meet the H Moser & Cie Streamliner chronograph

Around this time of year we've become accustomed to the high jinks of H. Moser & Cie's mischievous CEO Eduard Meylan, usually an elaborate joke aimed at the watch industry and often sometimes paired with new watch.

These japes don't always work (last year's frankly daft Nature Watch was damp squib) but when they do hit their mark they can be extraordinarily effective. When Meylan mocked the arrival of the Apple Watch and introduced the world to his brand's Swiss Alp Watch, a watch in a rectangular case that drew obvious comparisons, it gave the relatively niche, Swiss independent watchmaker the kind of mainstream global news coverage that money simply cannot buy.

Equally unconventional is the watch's glorious 21,600 vph HMC 902 calibre developed in partnership with Agenhor, Jean-Marc Wiederrecht's Geneva-based movement house that develops complicated movements for the likes of Van Cleef & Arpels and, most pertinently to this watch, Faberge and Singer Reimagined.

H Moser & Cie

The movement is clearly built upon the foundations of Agenhor's astonishing AgenGraphe movement, which it developed with the goal of doing away with sub dials and which allows both Faberge's Visionnaire Chronograph and Singer Reimagined's Track 1 to record chronograph seconds, minutes and hours via three centrally mounted hands.

FIRST LOOK: Fabergé introduces new Colours of Love rings

Luxury house Fabergé has introduced new pieces to its Colours of Love collection ahead of the Valentine's gifting period.

While the Colours of Love collection has always combined traditional craftsmanship with modern techniques and contemporary style, these new rings now also highlight an additional dimension – responsible sourcing.

The rubies in the range are from Gemfields' Mozambican Montepuez mine while the emeralds come from the company's Kagem mine in Zambia.

Gemfields work with mining communities, governments and conservation NGOs to ensure every gemstone sold supports schools, medical care, the environment and conservation.

To complement these precious gemstones, Fabergé has utilised environmentally 'sustainable' gold ore from Peru, which guarantees mercury-free extraction.

The Colours of Love collection is based on Peter Carl Fabergé's trademark techniques – like fluting, where parallel grooves are hand carved into 18ct gold. Peter Carl revived this unique style, inspired by the skills of ancient Roman gold and silversmiths, and employed it on his famous Imperial Eggs. Fabergé now showcases this elegant technique on the bands of these rings. Although the procedure, has been updated – each ring is cast in a 3D model – every groove has to be hand polished before the stones can be set.

The new Colours of Love rings offer three fluted band designs to suit every style – plain fluted, alongside diamond and gemstone-set fluted shoulders.

The three coloured gemstones – ruby, emerald and sapphire – have been carefully chosen and each have been a potent symbol of love since ancient times.

These versatile rings can be worn alone or stacked with matching bands within the collection to create a signature look which can be built over time.

At the heart of each ring is uniqueness – no two natural gemstones are alike; every stone has its own clarity, character and story, making each piece one-of-a-kind.

In a final touch, inspired Peter Carl's fondness for surprise and discovery, Fabergé has concealed a matching gemstone on the inside of the band, a secret stone on the skin that only the wearer knows is there.

Take a look at the new pieces here:

We celebrate the Year of the Rat with luxury brands the world over as they launch limited-edition collections to coincide with Chinese New Year on 20 January 2020. While some may view the rat as a furry pest, others see this creature as the dawn of a new beginning – the Chinese lunar calendar believes this four-legged rodent to be a sign of intelligence, success and a peaceful life.

Fabergé, Palais Tsarskoye Selo Red Locket with Rat Surprise, £8,640

If you've been following Fabergé, you'll have seen its previous incarnation of the Palais Tsarskoye Selo Red Lockets with a monkey, rooster, dog and pig hidden inside the recognisable Fabergé egg pendant. So it's no surprise that the rat follows this month, set in 18k yellow gold with diamonds. For those feeling left out, the remainder of the Chinese zodiac signs will be released later this year.

It's something that we all need: a lucky charm. Courtesy of Fabergé, this one is delightful and it comes with a little treat, which is only known to its wearer. In the grand tradition of Fabergé eggs that enclose a miniature treasure, the new pendant is indeed a companion amulet for night and day.

It has been over 100 years since Fabergé's first creations celebrating the Chinese New Year. "Master craftsman Francois Birbaum was commissioned by the royal court of Siam to make a series of objects and trinkets for the Year of the Pig in 1911", the team says. Fast-forward to 2016 when Fabergé revived the tradition for the Year of the Monkey, following suit with the annual introduction of Rooster, Dog and Pig respectively. The rat is thus the latest in a series of Palais Tsarskoye Selo Red Lockets that each come with a secret reveal. Named after the town containing a former Russian residence of the imperial family, the Tsarskoye Selo Lockets are a divine collectable series. The latest surprise feature is the aptly chosen rat that comes encased in red guilloché enamel set with 15 round brilliant-cut diamonds in 18K yellow gold. The signature egg shaped locket opens with a gentle touch to reveal a delicate yellow gold rat with dazzling diamond eyes. And as the metal rat year is one of important decisions, Fabergé is going to fully complete the Chinese zodiac array, "launching Palais Tsarskoye Selo Red Lockets with Horse, Snake, Rabbit, Ox, Goat, Dragon and Tiger surprises later in 2020". Get ready to finalise your collection.

Any attempt to write a feature on a historic luxury brand is inevitably frustrated by the fact that the history can run very deep. In today's market, craftsmanship and styles which have remained static for over a century are now being challenged, and if there is confusion amid all the alternative designs being put forward as current offerings, the simple answer is that brand revitalization has its very own creative strategy. This strategy's aim is to reach modern consumer's needs and tastes. It is in fact individual tastes that will always ensure that there are sufficient variations to cater to everybody.

...the brand's history is a testament to its enduring legacy. The Fabergé family, who founded the brand in 1844, were master jewellers and designers. Their creations were not only beautiful but also highly functional. The Fabergé brand has since become a symbol of luxury and craftsmanship.

Can Rats Be Chic? Fashion Labels Are Trying For Lunar New Year

The rodents may be the least fetching of China's zodiac symbols, but that's not stopping fashion companies from putting them on their scarves and watches.

Each year, fashion labels seeking to cash in on the coming Lunar New Year turn to the corresponding zodiac animal for cutesy designs. They've made doggy denim jackets, itty-bitty pig charms, monkey necklaces and rooster handbags. But this time, designers don't have an adorable rabbit to work with. Nor do they have a majestic horse or a fiery dragon.

No, 2020 is the Year of the Rat.

Watchmakers and jewelers are on board too. A bright red Harry Winston watch in rose gold sets the silhouette of a rat against a mother-of-pearl dial. Vacheron Constantin, Panerai and Blancpain made rat watches too. Faberge is even selling a $9,500 red enamel egg locket with 17 round white diamonds set in yellow gold. There's a gold rat with diamond eyes hiding inside. They're calling it a "rat surprise."

Fabergé Introduces New Colours of Love Rings

Fabergé is proud to introduce the latest additions to the Colours of Love Collection – a trio of new rings, featuring emeralds, rubies and sapphires priced perfectly for Valentine's Day gifting.

The Colours of Love collection has always combined the traditional craftsmanship of Peter Carl Fabergé's inventive mind with modern techniques and contemporary style. These new rings now also highlight an additional dimension – responsible sourcing.

The rubies in the collection are from Gemfields' Mozambican Montepuez mine while the emeralds come from the company's Kagem mine in Zambia, offering the wearer a sense of pride and compassion. Gemfields work with mining communities, governments and conservation NGOs to ensure every gemstone sold supports schools, medical care, the environment and conservation.

To complement these precious gemstones, Fabergé has utilised environmentally 'sustainable' gold ore from Peru, which guarantees mercury-free extraction. When investing in one of these beautiful rings, customers can also rest assured that ethical practices and standards of excellence are observed, respecting human rights and guaranteeing complete traceability across the supply chain.

Peter Carl Fabergé would certainly approve; he always preferred his work to have emotional value beyond price. More concerned with ingenuity and beauty over cost, he once famously said; 'expensive things interest me little if their value is merely in so many diamonds or pearls'. These rings in the Colours of Love collection honour that belief with an emotional and ethical value that far surpasses the sum of their parts.

The Colours of Love collection is based on Peter Carl Fabergé's trademark techniques – like fluting, where parallel grooves are hand carved into 18k gold. Peter Carl revived this unique style, inspired by the skills of ancient Roman gold and silversmiths, and employed it on his famous Imperial Eggs. Fabergé now showcases this elegant technique on the bands of these rings. The procedure, of course, has been updated – each ring is cast in a 3D model – but every groove has to be hand polished before the stones can be set.

These new Colours of Love rings offer three fluted band designs to suit every style – plain fluted, alongside diamond and gemstone set fluted shoulders. Each oval cut stone showcases these extraordinary coloured gemstones with precise artistic ingenuity.

The three coloured gemstones have been carefully chosen and each have been a potent symbol of love since ancient times. Ruby's red, set in 18k rose gold, represents the colour of passion, beauty, courage and sacrifice – the stone of royalty in the Bible, ancient Sanskrit writings and long-held Persian, Indian and Chinese belief.

Emerald's green, set in 18k yellow gold, represents renewal, harmony, fertility and life – considered a healing stone by civilisations as old as the Romans.

Sapphire's blue, set in 18k white gold, represents trust, loyalty, faith and truth – held as a symbol of wisdom and protection for millennia.

The meaning of each stone makes the collection perfect for gifting – from Valentine's Day to Christmas, as an engagement ring, or to mark anniversaries and significant moments in life you wish to cherish. These versatile rings can be worn alone or stacked with matching bands within the collection to create a signature look which can be built over time as your own love story grows.

At the heart of each ring is uniqueness – no two natural gemstones are alike; every stone has its own clarity, character and story, making these a truly personal gift. In a final touch, inspired Peter Carl's fondness for surprise and discovery, Fabergé has concealed a matching gemstone on the inside of the band, a secret stone on the skin that only the wearer knows is there.

The new Ruby, Emerald and Sapphire Colours of Love rings will be available to purchase at www.faberge.com and across selected Fabergé retailers from January 2019. Prices start at £3,600.

دار 'قابر جيئہ' تطرح ألواناً جديدة من خواتم Love Rings

الرجاء والجمال ، 06 كانون 2/يناير 2020

تستدرك د. "مارجيري" Faberge، يشرح أحد التصميمات التي انضمت إلى مجموعة "الوان الكوان" Colours of Love، وهو عبارة عن ثلاثة من ألوان المجموعة الخمسة: الأزرق والبنفسجي والبرتقالي، مستوحاة من استعارة الشاعر الإنجليزي جون دكنز "أنا في حبك" من خلال ما تمثله الألوان من صفات إنسانية. أما عن صفات الألوان الثلاثة، فتقول: "البنفسجي يرمز إلى التواضع وهو لون يرتبط بمرور الزمن، الأزرق يرمز إلى الحب والبراعة، والبرتقالي يرمز إلى الحب والدفء".

وتتحدث الباحثة، قائلة: "أنا أعتقد أن هذه الألوان الثلاثة هي ما يجذب عيون الناس، لأنها ترمز إلى صفات إنسانية جميلة، وهي صفات التي نتمنى أن نمتلكها جميعاً".

تستند مجموعة Colours of Love إلى الفيليات التي اختيرت باستخدامها بين كل ثلاث عامين، مثل تقنية التخييد الاسفالتية التي صممت لتجديد الخيوط القارئة بجوياً في القرب بين 18 فبراير وأما بين كل ثلاث أعوام، هذه الأساليب الخشبية من مزارع نباتات القصب والقصبة الروماني القديم، واستخدمه في بيض "مارجونا" الامبراطوري الشهير. من أهم "مارجونا" تسمى هذه الأساليب التي من هذه الأساليب التي تفرقت نظرت عليها، ويحدث بات كل خاتم متغير. قال تلاميذ الامام، لمار بعدوا إلى صفك كل الحديقة يدور في كل ربع الاحبار.

تؤطر خواتم Colours of Love الجديدة بملكات تصاميم من الخيوط. بما يليق يستلهم كل امرأة، فهناك التحويلات السادة، والتحويلات المرسومة بالألوان والأصباغ الغريبة. بتوسط كل خاتم حجر كريم يضاهي، مصقول بدقة تمّ عن الأعداء.

تم اختيار الأحجار الكريمة بدقة، فلقد جُعلَ حُجرُ زمرد من رومول الحُصنَ عند القديم يُعَدُّ الباقوت الأحمر، المرصع على الخشب، والذهب اللؤلؤي، على 18 غُرْطاً، لونُ الشُّغف والجمال، والشَّجاعة والتضحية، وهو حجرُ الحُلْم، بسبب الإحليل، والشَّكَاكِب، المستعصية القديمة، وبسبب العُقَدَات القارصية والهدية والعصية القديمة.

أمَّا الزُّمَرُ الأخضر، المرصع على الذهب الأصفر، على 18 غُرْطاً، فيُعدُّ حُجَرُ التَّجَدُّدِ والتَّعَاوُنِ والنَّصِيحَةِ والعمارة، واعتبره

يرمز السافير الأزرق، المرسع على الذهب الأبيض عيار 18 قيراط، إلى الثقة والولاء، والإيمان والحقيقة، واعتُبر لآلاف السنوات رمزاً عن رموز الحكمة والاحتراز.

ربما إذا قلّ خبر دالة الخاصة، تُشكّل هذه العوالم الهدية المصنوعة لجميع الناس، من عبد الله إلى عبد الجبال، كما أنكرت عوالمه كخاتم طيبة، أو لاعتقال الناس والصفقات التي يحاطك جميع الرجال، هذه العوالم لوجهة أو لتسليمها هذه أخرى من الجموعة (إذاً بإزالة مديونة أخرى ستظهر حقيقة أخرى من الشريرين من مرور الوقت).

في الحقيقة يتيسر فهم هذه التصديقات، أو من كرم يلمسه الآخر، يشترك كل من صفاته ومساكن ومجالاتها كما يمكن من هذه العوالم هدبة شخصية بكل ما تشاء من معنى. أمّا النسبة الأخيرة فقلت من وجهي أو بين كارل بنصر الملاحظاة بالاشتراك: "بالاشتراك: بفتح الـ" فالمرحوم" هذا العوالم الحقيقية من حسن كرمها مثابها لتعجز الذي يتوشع النائم، ليكون

في الحقيقة بلاش اشتراك لا يوجد، وهو سوى العوالم النائم.

Fabergé Celebrates Valentine's Day with New Colours of Love Rings

January 15, 2020 Jewelry 19

Fabergé is proud to introduce the latest additions to the Colours of Love Collection – a trio of new rings, featuring emeralds, rubies and sapphires priced perfectly for Valentine's Day gifting.

The Colours of Love collection has always combined the traditional craftsmanship of Peter Carl Fabergé's inventive mind with modern techniques and contemporary style. These new rings now also highlight an additional dimension – responsible sourcing.

The rubies in the collection are from Gemfields' Mozambican Montepuez mine while the emeralds come from the company's Kagame mine in Zambia, fltering the wearer a sense of pride and compassion. Gemfields work with mining communities, governments and conservation NGOs to ensure every gemstone sold supports schools, medical care, the environment and conservation.

اختارت لك خواتم الحب Love Rings من فابريجيه

1 Day Ago by NewsGator

أيام تقمصنا عن يوم الحب، وليس هناك ما هو أجمل من غائم فخم مريض بالأحجار الكريمة العلوية، من مجموعة ألوان الحب Colours of Love من فابريجيه، وهي عبارة عن ثلاثة من الخواتم الجديدة المرفقة بالزيمز والياقوت والسافير بأسعار مناسبة للاحتفال بيوم الحب.

حجر الياقوت المستخدم في هذه المجموعة مستورد من منجم مونتيريز للياقوت في الموزمبيق، التابع لشركة "جيم فيلدر" Gemfields فيما الزيمز مستورد من منجم كاجيم في زامبيا التابع لنفس الشركة. فشنعر المرأة التي تتألق بهذه المجوهرات بخس من الفخر والعاطف لأن "جيم فيلدر" تتعاون مع مجتمعات التنجيم والحكومات والمنظمات غير الحكومية التي تفتي بالحفاظ على البيئة حرصاً منها على أن تسهم بيع كل حجر كريم في دعم المدارس وتأمين الرعاية الطبية والحفاظ على البيئة ومواردها.

استعانت "فابريجيه" بالذهب الخام "المستدام" والمستخرج بسبل لا تضر بالبيئة من البيرق، بطريقة تضمن استخراجها من دون أضرار الزئبق. عند الاستعانة في هذه الخواتم الجميلة، يتعم المعلن براحة البال بأن عملية التصميم راعت المعايير الأخلاقية ومعايير التنقل واحترمت حقوق الإنسان وضمت الشفافية اتفاقية على طول سلسلة الإمداد.

لو كان مؤسس الدار بيتر كارل فابريجيه على قيد الحياة لأيد هذه المجموعة، فهو لظالمها فقل أن تحمل تصاميمه قيمة عاطفية تتعدى السعر فقط. إنسب إليه قول فهدر، يشهد على حرصه على ذلك، التصميم والجمال أكثر من الثمن: "لا تهمني الأرباح الشبيهة إن كانت قيمتها تكمن فقط في عدد الألماس والألوان". انطلاقاً من هذا الإيمان، تتميز الخواتم في مجموعة Colours of Love بقيمة عاطفية وأخلاقية تتعدى قيمة أجزائها.

Three Colours of Love, Emotion and Charmeuse Rings, GEMFIELDS

The word may be slightly clichéd by now, but there's no denying the meaning. Millennials are the most aware generation to date, attaching far greater importance to understanding the origin of their purchases, the conditions under which they were produced and therefore whether their purchases will benefit those involved throughout the supply chain.

However, the red carpet is also a great platform for ethical jewels. Elena shares, "the rise in coloured gems has certainly been helped by celebrities and young royals opting for colourful engagement rings and wearing more colour in their jewellery. Princess Eugenie was proposed to with a padparadscha sapphire and wore an emerald tiara at her wedding, the Duchess of Sussex chose an aquamarine ring of Diana's for her wedding dinner, whilst the Duchess of Cambridge wears Diana's sapphire ring as her engagement ring."

一直以来, Colours of Love 爱之三色系列就结合了彼得·卡尔·费伯格 (Peter Carl Fabergé) 的创意思维和传统工匠的卓越技艺, 是一种现代技术与时代风格的完美结合。此次推出的爱之三色戒指还特别强调了“可靠来源”的重要性, 可将作品上升至另一境界。

该系列所采用的红宝石和祖母绿分别产自Gemfields在莫桑比克的蒙特维拉红宝石矿及赞比亚卡利穆祖母绿矿。Gemfields在矿区积极投入社区帮扶项目，并与当地居民、政府和生态保育的非政府组织共同合作，确保每一颗宝石的销售额所得都用于回馈矿区以及改善民生，将资金重新投入到学校及医疗设施建设、环境保护及生态保育等项目，赋予宝石三色戒面的概念—一颗由爱的白晶莹。

为了更符合可基本原则时，奥伯奇采用了环境可持续发展的金矿石。这些来自秘鲁的金矿石，使用的是无汞金矿法，以确保供应能保持完整的可持续性，采矿的每一环节都充分地尊重人权主义、实践道德规范、维持高标准，让客户放心投资购买奥之三色戒指。

这一平刀法是要使得卡·费舍尔的赞许。他一向重视作品所蕴含的情感价值,认为作品可考虑的价值是处于平刀法所取样的,重视作品的感性及内在美。席得·卡·费舍尔说出一句名言:“一种珠宝首饰的价值却只是由于镶嵌的钻石或宝石或珍珠的贵重而,假使这镶嵌宝石所镶嵌的珠宝不值钱。”此次推出的双色三色戒指就秉承这一理念,着重于作品所富含的情感与造型价值,体现了“整体大于部分之和”的道理。

Colours of Love爱之三色系列完美展示了费得·卡伊·费伯最具标志性的技艺，如运用挂毯 (fluting) 所绘之18世纪意大利上流社会流行时尚。这一套三色系列是受当时与意大利相近的威尼斯所启发，费伯本人作为威尼斯著名画家有着深厚的艺术积淀，巧妙地融入了这一技艺，为“爱”添了一抹风格。现如今，费伯利用最新的技术，透过爱之三色或别的循环再次呈现这精美绝伦的技艺——利用3D模型确保每一枚戒指，再经过手工抛光，为每一个平凡情侣有的珍贵纪念，最完美地表达。

为迎合不同喜好，登之三戒戒指共有三种平行槽指环设计可挑选，简约的风格、镶嵌风格及镶嵌了有色宝石的风格，每一颗圆形切工的主宝石都有有尖宝石的陪伴与衬托并映照出其风采。

然位于Abergil的Colons of Love威士忌系列,据说以教义为灵感,红葡萄酒和蓝葡萄酒为完美的结合,共同构成爱之道的永恒或为人生中的永恒经典。

一向以Cocoon of Love第二系列为起点的彼得·卡贝罗的弟子Peter Carl Fabergé的蛋的装饰和传统工匠的卓越技艺是一种现代技术与传统的完美融合。此次推出的爱之二系列中设计师保留了“可可爱爱”的主题性，将图案艺术上升级到一个高度。

负责判例的英国皇家刑事法院法官Gareth Williams表示, 在雷特曼案中, 法官已对互联网上非法传播色情内容, 以及非法传播他人社交网络信息并作出地定罪, 而雷特曼作为色情网站的共同创办人, 确有一般性的控制并能够影响网站上的内容, 因此会面临入狱或罚金处罚。环境自由法上, 网站信息, 被传播之内容, 被传播者, 一般也面临处罚。

为了富商巨贾们得到源源不断的财富,他们采用了环境可替代资源的金矿。这些可替代的金矿,使用的资源不是由土地、水和空气提供,而是由人的创造能力提供的。金矿的每一环节都必须以他人的意见、知识和资源为前提,他们才能创造出富商巨贾们心驰神往的财富之山和城堡。

Calcutt of Love 之二系列中的电景展示了印度-中东的贸易网络中的地区, 如印度城市Purwar 的工匠在18K黄金上手工雕刻出蝴蝶的平行线。这一无二的双面图案象征着喜马拉雅山脉的工匠们所创造, 这种手工艺术为印度国家设计并制造了印度国家银行(1947年)和印度政府(1950年)的一些标志。"爱"了这一网络, 现代工业技术和传统制造技术, 通过手工雕刻的蝴蝶和工匠们所雕刻的蝴蝶的工匠——和和工匠们使用一种传统的手工技术, 为每一个平行线图案的蝴蝶制造, 他们才刚刚开始。

費伯與Colours of Love假之三色系列戒指

东协会的三种彩色空石世界最罕见, 因此也是智慧攀登的象征。暗红色的红玉石圈于1832年发现, 代表了热情、魅力、勇气与牺牲——无论能否征服由梵文、易经所铸成的碑, 抑或中国的久远传说, 最初为之象征皇室的精英巨石。

草场以远的编号铁钎谷于18K黄土地带上升起了黄土。和酸。孕草场成长,从古老马和明黄被建多文明社会视为
地母之石。

肇始于1893年的国宝玉石及地质馆，忠诚、忠贞与真实，千年以来皆为智慧与守护的象征。

每款有色生石的图案,皆为法利西造,无论是情人节或圣诞节,亦或是作为订婚或纪念品,甚至是为了纪念生命中的值得珍惜的一刻,都无不是最合适的选择。你可以选择保留原状,或从系列中的任一款式作出图案修改,设计出专属的经典风格,亦发展了爱情长河中的每个里程碑。

天然有色宝石皆由半天地、地一物有色宝石都取自了自然的矿藏，这些是纯净或时带点不纯的一统。所以每一枚假之三色宝饰都可需按一二款加做一段受情。以假之三色宝饰送人，才能真正解除心灾。作为必须之珠宝品如海蓝宝石要在其中含有无色的二色，黄色也必须在黄之二色加成的循环内创造了一颗假的有色宝石——这叫做假宝饰是本人机能的假宝石，只有出本人之才知心意。

最新系列的红宝石、祖母绿及蓝宝石 Colours of Love 爱之三色系系列源自2020年1月起的宝格丽高级珠宝网 www.bulgari.com 及珠宝零售网开始销售, 售价为16000欧元起。
